GREAT BRITISH DOG WYCOLLAR BOY IS NOW IN AMERICA

Andrew Albright, Jr., Purchases Champion Fox Terrier and Pays $5,000 for Him.

WILL VIE WITH SIRE AT SHOW IN GARDEN

Interest in the wire haired fox terrier classes at coming shows will be greatly augmented by the arrival in this country of the sensational English champion Wycollar Boy, which Andrew Albright, Jr., of Newark imported last week, at a price reputed to be $5,000. This marvellous little terrier has been the leading winner at all of the large English shows during the year just ended and his rec ord indicates that the many wire chamons owned in this country will have to look to their laurels at coming shows Wycollar Boy is a son of the famous Champion Wire Boy of Paignton, George Quintard's wonderful terrier, which has awept everything before him during the past year and has made an enviable record of wins. The first meeting between these two dogs (father and son) will be watched with no little interest, not only by fox terrier enthusiasts but by all followers of the dog shows. A brief resume of the winnings of Wycollar Boy in England shows that he has led all other breeds in most of the large shows, and among his most noted wins are the Fox Terrier Club's 50 guinea grand challenge cup for the best wire haired dog in the show at Nottingham. Quintard's wonderful terrier, which has

RYBURN SWELL WINS WHEREVER HE GOES

Great Airedale Is Champion in Both United States and England.

NONE HERE CAN BEAT HIM

In the history of the Airedale terrier in this country there never has been a dog which has had such a sensational show career as international champion York Ryburn Swell, owned by Messrs, James W. Gills and Albert Stern of Rochester, N. Y. This dog can boast of winning at thirty shows without meeting a reverse and besides being a champion in England is a three time championship winner in this country. His wonderful show successes have not been won against easy competition, as he has always been exhibited fearlessly and against all comers and he has met and defeated every dog of note in this country.

comers and he has met and defeated every dog of note in this country.

Any dog that can get the winner's rosette and the special for the best of the breed two years in succession in a specialty show the size of the annual affair held by the Airedale Terrier Club of New York must be an extraordinary specimen, but this feat was accomplished by Swell as well as winning at Mineola (1915) under the English expert Holland Buckley, who put him over one of the greatest collection of Airedales ever assembled in a ring.

That sound judge of a terrier, Theodore Offerman of Brooklyn, purchased the dog in England when he was a puppy and before he had won his English championship. After becoming owner of the dr., Offerman left him in England with instructions to have him brought out at the large shows and see if he was of championship calibre. He quickly prived that he did not have a peer on the English show bench, winning over fifty firsts at such shows as Crystal Palace, Alexandria, Palace, Taunton, Cryfts, Bir-let of Pendleton, the Peke which won over all other dogs in show on his first and only time ex-hibited. at such shows as Crystal Palace, Alex-andria Palace, Taunton, Crufts, Bir-mingham and Dublin. He soon became a champion of record in England and a champion of record in England and was brought to this country by Offer-man. As soon as he arrived here he was put under the care of Harry Pounds, who calcibly had him in the best of show condition and then his sensational show career in this country began. OFFERED AT SHOWS seems to be a rage in the giving of specials, and it is not unusual for the winning dog to take home more than half a dozen cups. In fact at a show a short time ago one bitch was known to win no less than sixteen specials, including cups, cash, medals, &c.

If the specials should be divided more generally and the strings between this grand dog and the sensational English champion Tintern Tip Top, which has just been brought over from England, should make judging of more than passing interest. more than passing interest.

If the specials should be divided more generally and the strings removed from them there is no doubt they would prove a better drawing card, but as they are given now much of their value is lost. The idea of putting up a handsome trophy to be won throughout the year and which becomes the property of the winner of the most points at the end of the year is one of the best ways to give a special, and most of the clubs have adopted this way of offering their specials.
